He knows,
He loves,
He cares,

Nothing this truth can dim
He always gives the best to those,
Who leave their choice to Him

Dear Mabel:

The world is dark, but you are called to brighten
Some little corner, some secluded glen;
Somewhere a burden rests that you may lighten
And thus reflect the master's love for men."

Dear Miss Kittner:-

Christ has no hands but our hands
To do His work today
He has no feet but our feet
To lead men in His way
He has no tongues but our tongues
To tell men how He died
He has no help but our help
To bring them to His side

God is Love.

What if our hands are doing other work than His
What if our feet are walking where Sins allurement is
What if our lips are speaking things
His lips would spurn
How can we hope to help and hasten
His return.

Remember always to do those things that you know to be right and wrong will never come your way

Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable Gift

Stir me, oh! Stir me, Lord, I care not how;
But stir my heart in passion for the world;
Stir me to give, to go but most to pray,
Stir, till the blood-red banner be unfurled
O'er lands that still in heathen darkness lie,
O'er deserts where no cross is lifted high.

Of all the beast that roam
the woods
I rather be a coon.
I sit up in a hickory tree

Dear Mabel:

Friendship's ties are not all lasting,
Friendship comes not by the asking,
But each day is closer blended,
In the hearts of those we love that are dear.
Friendship true will never sever
Heart from heart, but live forever,
Though we die, yet in sweet memory we are near.

"Why does the sea of thoughts thus backward roll?
Memory's the breeze that through cordage raves,
And ever drives us on some homeward shoal,
As if she loved the melancholy waves
That, murmuring shoreward, break o'er a reef of graves."

Dear Mabel:

As I read these lines from time to time. I'll always remember of what your friendship has meant to mine.

Of your cheerfull and sunny smile
Always willing with a ready and helpfull hand
Thy services to our aide upon lend.
May God richly reward and bless your life. If we may not meet again. I hope and trust we'll meet up there again.

Dear Mabel

Friendship lives in the heart, grows in the mind, travels in the speech, shines out through the countenance, and pronounces God's sublime benediction to the troubled and distressed soul. A friend magnifies not the dross in you, but polishes the gold. Christ is the permanent bond of friendship, of love, and it is the unfailing medium of sympathetic communication between the best friends. "He is a Friend that sticketh closer than a brother."

There is never a day so dreary;
There is never a night so long;
But the soul that is trusting in Jesus
Will some where find a song.

In the heart he implanteth a song,
A song of redemption, of courage, of strength,
In the heart he implanteth a song.
